TOP STORIES

Be part of the tax legislative framework review

As we look ahead to the 2025 Budget Review, taxpayers and tax practitioners have a unique opportunity to influence the tax legislative design. Per standard practice, National Treasury is inviting submissions for technical tax proposals focused on current issues such as unintended anomalies, revenue leakages, and other necessary adjustments to the existing tax legislative framework.

This is a key opportunity for members to address significant technical challenges and contribute to shaping important policy decisions. Submissions are due by 25 November 2024. The virtual workshops are planned for early December, 2024, to discuss these proposals. Now is the time to engage and help steer the future of tax policy.

Members who wish to submit commentary may email ksesana@thesait.org.za by no later than 15 November 2024. National Treasury's invitation may be accessed, here.

Deadline for beneficial ownership update with the Master's Office

The implementation of the amendments to the Trust Property Control Act, 1988, came into effect on 1 April 2023. The Amendment Act seeks to address the shortcomings in beneficial ownership transparency in South Africa's regulatory framework. South Africa, as a member of the Financial Action Task Force (FATF), is obliged to ensure that its regulatory environment is geared towards international standards in anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism.

According to the Amendment Act, a trustee commits an offence if they fail to disclose to an accountable institution that they engage with in the capacity of a trustee, which the relevant transaction or business relationship relates to trust property.

As such, the deadline for the filing of the beneficial ownership to register with the Master of the High Court is 15 November 2024.

PART A: COMPLIANCE & SARS OPERATIONS

SAIT-SARS 'ON-THE-GROUND' ENGAGEMENT

Challenges with the SARS Contact Centre showing up again

Tax practitioners are always required to utilise a specific queue when contacting SARS, and this is achieved by selecting '1' when prompted to do so. Once this selection is made, the tax practitioners PR-number and ID number must be provided to authenticate the tax practitioner.

In June 2024, the authentication was limited to an ID number and excluded all tax practitioners registered with a passport number. As a result, a tax practitioner with a passport number would be connected with SARS' normal queue and the consultants are unable to assist as they do not have the functionality to assist tax practitioners, resulting in tax practitioners needing to redial and rejoin the call queue.

In addition to this, the call back functionality for tax practitioners has been unavailable. The call back function is available for ordinary taxpayers but cannot be requested for tax practitioners.

In response to this, SAIT made a submission to SARS requesting that some IVR enhancements be done to resolve the problems experienced with the SARS Contact Centre.

Reminder on the immense delays experienced with the finalisation of banking detail verification cases

With Filing Season 2024 officially closed for non-provisional taxpayers, many taxpayers are still without their personal income tax refunds despite the 72-hour turnaround promise. Many of these taxpayers have historically received refunds in the same bank accounts that are reflected as 'valid' on the Registration, Amendments and Verification (RAV01) form. Whilst the details have not changed, taxpayers are also often required to submit supporting documents for the verification of banking details to validate the correctness of the information reflected on SARS' systems before the refund is processed.

Although the official cause of these bank verification cases is largely unknown, the hypothesis, based on previous years of assessments, is that when the banking details reflected on the RAV01 form differ from those completed on the ITR12 or reflected on the reconciled IRP5 certificate, SARS' risk algorithms flag this as a potential risk, requiring the taxpayer to verify the correct banking details.

SAIT has received many complaints regarding refunds paid into the bank account reflected on the ITR12 return in lieu of the bank account reflected on the RAV01 form, causing immense frustration for taxpayers as these monies are often not recovered and paid into the other bank account.

The turnaround time for the finalisation of the banking verification case is 21 business days, however, over the past two months, SAIT has received numerous reports of cases pending since July 2024. Although all these cases are escalated to their relevant regions to be expedited, SAIT will also be engaging the National Stakeholder Engagement team on this matter as these cases are spread across the country.

The SAIT Technical team will continue to monitor these cases and provide feedback on the progress thereof in due course.

SAIT TaxHelpline – escalations

As part of our service to members, SAIT escalates appropriate cases within the SARS structures on behalf of members. Members can submit a query via the TaxHelpline for SAIT to assist with a SARS escalation matter. You can read more on the process and requirements, here.

Key operational news

SARS implements biometrics for eFiling registrations

On 1 November 2024, SARS announced that they had introduced biometric technology to protect taxpayer information and to guard against profile hijacking and identity fraud. Biometric facial-recognition authentication will be introduced for all individuals who register for eFiling using a valid South African ID.

Biometric identification applies to the eFiling website, SARS MobiApp, and SARS Self Service Kiosks.

- The system will provide instructions, such as the background setting, removal of head gear and glasses, facial position, and distance from the camera as well as online guidance to help users capture clear photos for authentication.
- The photos will be matched in real-time against the applicable reference data (e.g. SARS and the Department of Home Affairs [DHA] records). The system will immediately provide the outcome of the biometric authentication.

Individuals using the eFiling website or SARS MobiApp to register will require a device with a camera, such as a desktop webcam, laptop camera, or smartphone camera.

The usual eFiling registration, authentication, and manual verification process will still apply to non-South African citizens.

For more information, read here.

Deadline for beneficial ownership update with the Master's Office

The implementation of the amendments to the Trust Property Control Act, 1988, came into effect on 1 April 2023. The Amendment Act seek to address the shortcomings in beneficial ownership transparency in South Africa's regulatory framework. South Africa, as a member of the Financial Action Task Force (FATF), is obliged to ensure that its regulatory environment is geared towards international standards in anti-money laundering and combating the financing of terrorism.

According to the Amendment Act, a trustee commits an offence if they fail to disclose to an accountable institution that they engage with in the capacity of a trustee, that the relevant transaction or business relationship relates to trust property.

As such, the deadline for the filing of the beneficial ownership to register with the Master of the High Court is 15 November 2024.

The trustee also commits an offence if they fail to record the details of an accountable institution as prescribed in regulation 3B; if they fail to establish and record the beneficial ownership information of a trust prescribed in regulation 3C and when they fail to keep an up to date record of the beneficial ownership information prescribed in regulation 3C or fails to lodge a register of the beneficial ownership information prescribed in regulation 3C with the Master of the High Court.

It was previously noted that there was a low level of compliance with these provisions by trustees, particularly the lodging of the beneficial ownership information with the Master of the High Court. This low level of compliance would have a significant impact on South Africa exiting the grey-list by the January 2025 deadline. All trustees are reminded that the law is already in operation and remains applicable together with the penalties for non-compliance.

The Minister of Justice and Constitutional Development made regulations that were published in the Government Gazette No. 48351 on 31 March 2023 in order to facilitate the implementation of the Amendment Act. Prior to these amendments, the Trust Property Control Act, 1988, did not provide for reporting on beneficial ownership and hence had no prescribed penalties for non-compliance.

SARS releases the updated Donations Tax Declaration Form

On 1 November 2024, SARS released the updated Donations Tax Guide which contains details of the latest version of the Donations Tax Declaration Form (IT144). The purpose of the guide is to assist with the completion of the IT144 form.

Amongst others, the updated guide covers the following areas:

- Disposal by companies at the instance of any person;
- Donations by spouses married in community of property;
- Deemed disposal of property under a donation;
- Donations Tax Liability; and
- Loan or credit advanced to a trust by a connected person.

For more information, members are encouraged to access the guide.

Reminder on the updated specification for the two-pot retirement system

Since the implementation of the two-pot retirement system on 1 September 2024, SARS noted the challenges that the industry has been experiencing. As such, another enhancement was incorporated into IBIR-006 Tax Directives Interim Interface Specification Version 6.708. The enhancement and change, amongst others, addresses the additional validations for the de minimis (minimum amount that can be taken as cash) rule.

Currently, if a taxpayer has more than one policy with the same retirement annuity fund, to calculate the de minimis, the SARS system uses the value on the total gross benefit on the retirement amount but ignores any total benefit amounts from previous directives against the Financial Sector Conduct Authority (FSCA) number, registration number/approved fund number for accruals from 1 October 2007.

To calculate de minimis, all corresponding component values in previous directives (accruals from 1 October 2007) against the same FSCA registration number/approved fund number, in respect of Form A&D, must be considered.

This has since been corrected on the retirement annuity funds on Form C. The additional validations will apply to Form A&D for retirement or retirement due to ill health from a pension fund, provident fund or pension preservation fund.
